FEBRUARY 11 • MONDAY

11:30am – 4:30pm	Registration	Ballroom Foyer
12:00pm – 2:20pm	P Advisor Resource Training (ART) #1 Presenters: Russell Jones Now housed under NACURH, the new Advisor Resource Training Program has been developed with varying advisor needs in mind. ART consists of a 28 session curriculum, covering a variety of topics that you can explore at a NACURH Annual or Regional conference near you, and the new experiential requirements that will enable you to apply what you have learned in the classroom, to what you will encounter as an advisor. Complete Level One by attending this session and completing the necessary experiential requirements. Join us for a chance to share stories, strategies, and challenges with peers from across our states and provinces. This activity is open to anyone who identifies as an advisor, at any experience level or institution type. To foster a no-cost opportunity for collaboration with peers, NWACUHO has opted not to cater this event. You are encouraged to bring your lunch or eat before this event. 12:00pm – 2:20pm	P Facilities and Operations Roundtable Facilitator: Josh Gana Facilities and Operations professionals in the Pacific Northwest have a pretty unique slate of challenges to face. This pre-conference roundtable is intended to connect colleagues working in campus facilities and operations throughout our region so they can network, share resources, and connect with one another in a relaxed setting. Attendees will set the agenda so you can talk about what is most important to you. This opportunity is open to anyone whose job is within a facilities or operations area of focus. Facilitated by Josh Gana, Associate Director of Facilities, Operations, and Special Projects at University of Washington, Seattle.	Forum
12:00pm – 2:20pm	P Senior Housing Officer (SHO) Summit Facilitator: Kurt Haapala You asked, and we listened! Returning a second year to the NWACUHO Annual Conference is the Senior Housing Officer (SHO) Summit. This meeting is an opportunity for you to gather with other senior administrators in our region and discuss the challenges facing you and your institutions. You can network, troubleshoot, share solutions, and strategize ways your departments can work together to meet the ever increasing demands and expectations associated with running a housing department. To foster a no-cost opportunity for collaboration with peers, NWACUHO has opted not to cater this event. You are encouraged to bring your lunch or eat before this event. This opportunity is open to all Senior Housing Officers attending NWACUHO, and will add no cost to your registration.	Skyline 1
2:30pm – 3:30pm	New to NWACUHO Welcome This event is for any attendees who are new to NWACUHO, ACUHO-I, or are attending their first professional conference. State and Provincial Representatives will provide an overview of events and highlights of the conference. Attendees will also have the opportunity to meet members of the board of directors.	Skyline 1
3:30pm – 4:00pm	NWACUO Connections This event provides an opportunity for new professionals to connected with Senior Housing Officers in the region. If you are a new professional, or new to the region, come to this event to learn about the SHO journey in the northwest as well as their experiences and insights.	Skyline 1
4:00pm – 4:30pm	Opening Reception Dinner time isn't until 7:00 PM tonight, so we'll be providing some light snacks during the reception. Come grab a bite or something from the cash bar (which accepts cards too!) and catch up with an old friend! Please be seated in the same space and ready for the Opening at 4:30 PM. Hors d'oeuvres will include a tater tot bar, a "Grilled Cheese Action Station" and fresh vegetables.	Ballroom Foyer

Presenters: Dr. Debra Thompson

Don't miss this year's keynote address by Dr. Debra Thompson, a researcher of Canadian and US politics: "The Revolution on Campus: Democracy, Social Transformation, and the University."

Dr. Debra Thompson is an Associate Professor of Political Science at the University of Oregon. A political scientist with strong interdisciplinary orientations, Thompson's teaching and research interests focus on the relationships among race, the state, and inequality in democratic societies. Before coming to the University of Oregon, Dr. Thompson taught at Northwestern University and Ohio University, and held a SSHRC postdoctoral fellowship with the Center for American Political Studies at Harvard University in 2010-2011.

Dr. Thompson's book, The Schematic State: Race, Transnationalism, and the Politics of the Census (Cambridge University Press, 2016) is a study of the political development of racial classifications on the national censuses of the United States, Canada, and Great Britain. The book maps the changing nature of the census from an instrument historically used to manage and control racialized populations to its contemporary purpose as an important source of statistical information, employed for egalitarian ends, arguing that states seek to make their populations racially legible, turning the fluid and politically contested substance of race into stable, identifiable categories to be used as the basis of law and policy. The Schematic State has received three major awards from the American Political Science Association: the Race and Ethnic Politics section best book award in race and comparative politics, the Seymour M. Lipset award for the best book in Canadian politics, and an honorable mention from the International Politics and History section.

Dr. Thompson's work has appeared in journals such as the Canadian Journal of Political Science, Ethnic and Racial Studies, Social and Legal Studies, and the Cambridge Review of International Affairs. She is currently working on two book projects: the first explores the global appeal of the Black Lives Matter movement through the lens of American exceptionalism, while the second examines the puzzling persistence of racial inequality in Canada.

Copies of Dr. Thompson's book, The Schematic State: Race, Transnationalism, and the Politics of the Census, will be available for sale at the conclusion of the keynote address.
